

Advantage of hiring wait staff for private events

Your inner event planner has decided to put together the ultimate private party. Featuring your locations, ideas, personal touches, special skills, and all the details in between. Whether you are a professional taking on a brief, or a socialite and want the day to run exactly as you've planned, there's one important aspect that can be overlooked; an aspect that may prove the difference between a 'nice', creative party, or a day people talk about for the rest of their lives.

Of course, it's the wait staff team you hire for your private party.

As people continue the trend of planning their own private parties, we're seeing more parties in people's homes, farms, other properties, hired (empty shell) venues and homesteads, even parks and sand dunes. People aren't necessarily looking to save money either (though often this is one factor), they merely want an original, enjoyable private party to share with their friends and family.

While you're enjoying the party, the wait staff is delivering a service combination of your specific plans and ideas, coupled with years of corporate and private experience- surprising your guests with service levels ideally matched to VIP and formal events, yet no one needs to tell them...

If you imagine a formal venue, there's the hierarchy: restaurant manager, supervisors, beverage waiters, food runners, all well-drilled and capable of delivering the same robotic service, part after party. Now imagine those soldiers "on location" without their supervisor: lost, and unable to think for themselves. This is the hit-and-miss factor we've removed from our hire waiter party package.

We'll consider service aspects that you won't have to- how set an efficient bar, rubbish/clearing stations, staff delegation and allocation. When glasses or plates are low and need to be washed. When service periods will peak and where extra work is required. How to ensure guests eat enough. Drink enough. But not too much! We'll anticipate problems you won't know exist, and solve them before you learn.

Not only are our wait staff well experienced in private and unique events, they are well-rounded, multi-skilled, and KNOW when something needs to be done. They can take direction from a party planner, chef, or supervisor on the day, but they can also adapt and work efficiently unsupervised when plans and deadlines need to be met. With minimal instruction and briefing, we can adapt our many years across weddings, anniversaries, galas and corporate events to your special party, ensuring that everyone is having fun.

After all, what's the point of putting the effort in if you can't enjoy at your party?
